2D | THIS DATE IN AMERICAN LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES HISTORY

October 4

2011: In Game 4 of the ALDS, the Texas Rangers defeated the Tampa Bay Rays, 4-3, to advance to their second straight ALCS. Adrián Beltré accounted for three solo round-trippers and became the sixth player in MLB history to hit three homers in a single Postseason game, joining Hall of Famers Babe Ruth (1926 & 1928), Reggie Jackson (1977) and George Brett (1978), as well as Bob Robertson (1971) and Aam Kennedy (2002).

October 5

1997: Jeff Reboulet and Geronimo Berroa provided solo home runs, and Mike Mussina threw two-hit ball over 7.0 innings as the Baltimore Orioles defeated Randy Johnson and the Seattle Mariners, 3-1, to advance to their second ALCS in as many years. Mussina (2-0 in the series) notched seven strikeouts for the victory.

October 6

2009: After leading the AL Central Division by three games with four to play, the Detroit Tigers fell to the Minnesota Twins, 6-5, in 12 innings in a one-game playoff in Minneapolis to advance to the Division Series. Alexi Casilla singled home the winning run with one out in the 12th frame in the last regular season game at the Metrodome.

October 7

2009: In the first playoff game hosted at the new Yankee Stadium, third baseman Alex Rodriguez snapped an 0-for-29 Postseason skid with runners on base dating back to the 2004 ALCS with a pair of RBI-singles to guide New York to a 7-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins in Game 1 of the ALDS. The Yanks went on to defeat the Twins in three games en route to the franchise's 27th World Championship.

October 8

2007: In what turned out to be the last playoff game ever played at the original Yankee Stadium, the Cleveland Indians used a first-inning solo homer off the bat of Grady Sizemore and the strong pitching quartet of Paul Byrd, Rafael Perez, Rafel Betancourt and Joe Brousky to drop the Yanks, 6-4, in Game 4 of the ALDS. The contest also marked the final game of Joe Torre's 12-year managerial tenure with New York.

October 9

2009: The Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim took a commanding 2-0 ALDS series lead over the Boston Red Sox after a 4-1 win at Angel Stadium. Angels starter Jered Weaver allowed just one run on a pair of hits over 7.1 innings pitched and shortstop Erick Aybar went 2-for-3 with two RBI in the Los Angeles triumph.

October 10

1999: The Boston Red Sox established a new all-time Postseason record with 23 runs in Game 4 of their ALDS showdown with the Cleveland Indians, winning 23-7 at Fenway Park. The Red Sox pounded out 24 hits, including five by Mike Stanley and four apiece for John Valentin and Jason Varitek. Valentin launched a pair of two-run homers, racking up seven RBI on the night. Jose Offerman and Trot Nixon each added five RBI.

October 11

1999: After posting a Postseason-record 23 runs the game before, the Boston Red Sox overpowered the Cleveland Indians with a 12-8 victory in Game 5 to advance to the ALCS to face the defending World Champion New York Yankees. Troy O'Leary homered twice and Nomar Garciaparra launched a two-run homer of his own to back up Pedro Martinez's 6.0 innings of relief in the win.

2D | THIS DATE IN NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES HISTORY

October 4

2014: Game 2 of the NLDS between the Washington Nationals and the San Francisco Giants lasted a Major League-record 18 innings (6 hours, 23 minutes), eventually culminating with a 2-5 victory for the Giants. Brandon Belt clubbed the game-winning home run in the 18th frame, and the Giants' pitching staff combined for a Postseason-record 15 scoreless innings.

October 5

1999: Behind Edgardo Alfonzo's two home runs, the Mets defeated the Diamondbacks, 8-4, in Game 1 of their Division Series matchup. D-backs starter Randy Johnson struck out eleven Mets in a losing effort.

October 6

2007: The Colorado Rockies swept the Philadelphia Phillies as Jeff Baker's RBI single in the eighth inning broke a 1-1 tie and a lead that would not be relinquished. The win was Colorado's 17th in 18 games since September 16th.

October 7

1995: Greg Maddux tossed 7.0 innings, recording seven strikeouts, while Fred McGriff clubbed two home runs as the Atlanta Braves earned a 10-4 victory over the Colorado Rockies in a series-clinching Game 4 at Atlanta's Fulton County Stadium.

October 8

2006: Chris Carpenter tossed 7.0 innings while allowing just one run as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the San Diego Padres 5-1 in Game 4 to win the series 3-1.

October 9

2005: In a decisive Game 4, the Houston Astros and Atlanta Braves played the longest game in MLB Postseason history. Astros utilityman Chris Burke hit the series-winning home run in the bottom of the 18th for a 7-6 series-ending victory. It was the first game in Postseason history to include two grand slams (Adam LaRoche and Lance Berkman).

October 10

2009: Dodgers starter Vicente Padilla silenced the Cardinals offense, allowing four hits through seven innings as the Dodgers swept the best-of-five series, 3-0. The 47,296 attendance was, at the time, the largest crowd to see a game in Busch Stadium history.

October 11

2009: Ryan Howard's sacrifice fly off Rockies closer Huston Street in the top of the ninth proved to be the deciding factor in the Phillies' 6-5 victory in Game 3 of the series, which had originally been scheduled for October 10th, but was postponed after a snowstorm blanketed the Denver area.

3D | THIS DATE IN AMERICAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES HISTORY

October 12

2013: In Game 1 of the 2013 ALCS, Aníbal Sánchez, Al Albuquerque, José Veras, Drew Smyly and Joaquín Benoit of the Detroit Tigers combined to hold the Boston Red Sox hitless for 8.1 innings. Led by their starter Sánchez, who logged 12 punchouts, the Tigers tallied 17 strikeouts as a group. Jhonny Peralta recorded the sole RBI in the contest, scoring Miguel Cabrera on an RBI single in the sixth inning.

October 13

1991: The Minnesota Twins captured their second American League pennant in five seasons with an 8-5 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays at the Skydome. After leaving Minneapolis with the series tied at one game apiece, the Twins took control of the ALCS by taking the last three games in Toronto to advance to the Fall Classic. Kirby Puckett homered with two RBI in Game 5 en route to being named the ALCS MVP.

October 14

1976: The New York Yankees clinched their first AL Championship since 1964 after Chris Chambliss belted a solo home run in the bottom of the 9th inning to defeat the Kansas City Royals, 7-6, and take the best-of-five ALCS. Chambliss finished with three hits on the night, Mickey Rivers went 4-for-5 with a triple and three runs scored and Thurman Munson added three hits and two RBIs in the Yanks victory.

October 15

1995: Eddie Murray went 3-for-3 with an RBI and Jim Thome belted a two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth inning to give the Cleveland Indians the lead for good as the Tribe took Game 5 of the Championship Series, 3-2, over the Seattle Mariners. Orel Hershiser improved to 7-0 lifetime in the Postseason with eight strikeouts in 6.0 strong innings.

October 16

2008: Trailing 7-0 with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning, the Boston Red Sox mounted the largest Postseason comeback since the 1929 World Series by scoring eight unanswered runs in the final seven outs to defeat the Tampa Bay Devil Rays, 8-7, at Fenway Park. J.D. Drew singled to right with two down in the bottom of the ninth to score Kevin Youkilis and pull within one game of Tampa Bay's series advantage, 3-2.

October 17

2004: Trailing 4-3 and on the brink of elimination in Game 4 against the New York Yankees at Fenway Park, Boston Red Sox pinch runner Dave Roberts swiped second base before coming around to score on a Bill Mueller single to center field in the ninth inning off Yankees closer Mariano Rivera to knot the game at four apiece. The Boston comeback was completed in the 12th inning when Red Sox slugger David Ortiz blasted a two-run homer to keep the Red Sox alive in the series. It was David's second game-winning homer of the Postseason.

October 18

2004: Again facing elimination, the Boston Red Sox staged another comeback and grabbed a Game 5 win over the Yankees on an RBI-single by David Ortiz in the 14th inning to triumph, 5-4. It marked just the third time in ALCS history that teams played extra-inning games on consecutive days. At five hours and forty-nine minutes, it marked the longest contest in League Championship Series history.

October 19

2008: After becoming the first club in Baseball history to lose Games 5 and 6 of an ALCS and win Game 7, the Tampa Bay Rays advanced to their first-ever World Series after defeating the Boston Red Sox, 3-1, at Tropicana Field. Tampa Bay starter Matt Garza allowed just two hits over 7.0 innings and became the youngest pitcher ever to be named ALCS MVP.

October 20

2004: The Boston Red Sox secured their first American League pennant since 1986 with a 10-3 win in Game 7 at Yankee Stadium. With their fourth victory in four days, the Red Sox completed a historic comeback to become the first team in history to win a series after losing the first three games. David Ortiz earned ALCS MVP honors after delivering a pair of game-winning hits along with 11 RBI in the series triumph.

October 21

2007: The Boston Red Sox cruised to an 11-2 win over the Cleveland Indians in Game 7 of the ALCS at Fenway Park. After falling behind three games-to-one in the series, Boston stormed back to advance to the Fall Classic for the second time in four seasons.

October 12

2013: The St. Louis Cardinals won the critical Game 2 of the NLCS to take a 2-0 series lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers. In the tough-luck loss, Clayton Kershaw became the first starting pitcher in Postseason history to allow no earned runs and two hits-or-fewer, and lose the game. Jon Jay's sacrifice fly in the fifth inning accounted for the only run for St. Louis, as the Cardinals defeated the Dodgers 1-0.

October 13

1985: The St. Louis Cardinals routed the Los Angeles Dodgers by a 12-2 tally, evening their NLCS at two. The Cardinals played without rookie sensation Vince Coleman, who was injured during during pregame stretching when Busch Stadium's automated tarpaulin system ensared Coleman and injured his left leg. Coleman missed the remainder of the Postseason.

October 14

1986: New York Mets pitchers Dwight Gooden and Jesse Orosco retired 22 of the last 24 Astros batters, keeping the Houston club at bay until Gary Carter singled home the winning run in the 12th inning as the Mets won, 2-1.

October 15

1986: The New York Mets prevailed in a decisive Game 6 at Houston, winning 7-6 in 16 innings - 4 hours and 42 minutes - in what was the longest game in Postseason history. Mets reliever Jesse Orosco struck out Kevin Bass in the bottom of the 16th to give New York the National League Championship.

October 16

1991: Atlanta Braves hurler Steve Avery threw eight shutout innings in a 1-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in Game 6 of the NLCS at Three Rivers Stadium. The 21-year-old set an NLCS record with 16.1 scoreless innings in the series. After the Braves Game 7 victory the following night Avery was named Series MVP.

October 17

1981: Steve Garvey broke a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning with a two-run home run, and the Los Angeles Dodgers scored four more times in the ninth inning to beat the Expos 7-1 in Game 4 of the NLCS at Montreal's Olympic Stadium.

October 18

2013: Cardinals rookie hurler Michael Wacha tossed 7.0 scoreless, while the Cardinals roughed up Dodgers starter Clayton Kershaw in a 9-0 series-clinching victory. Wacha was named Series MVP after going 2-0 with a 0.00 ERA in two starts.

October 19

1981: After a fall snow storm and cold temperatures in Montreal forced Game 5 of the NLCS, originally scheduled for the 18th, to be moved back a day, the Los Angeles Dodgers and Montreal Expos faced each other at Olympic Stadium in a pitching duel between LA's Fernando Valenzuela and Montreal's Ray Burris. The score was tied 1-1 until the top of the ninth when Expos ace Steve Rogers, who came on in relief of Burris, gave up a solo home run to Dodger outfielder Rick Monday. Valenzuela retired two in the ninth before Bob Welch came on for the final out as the Dodgers advanced to the World Series.

October 20

2004: In the top of the ninth inning, Houston's Jeff Bagwell singled, scoring Morgan Ensberg to send the game into extra inning. Jim Edmonds clubbed a walk-off homer in the bottom of the 12th, forcing a Game 7 between the two clubs.

October 21

2012: The Giants forced a Game 7 in their series with the St. Louis Cardinals by winning a 6-1 decision in front of a sold-out AT&T Park. In doing so, the eventual World Series Champs became the first team since the 2007 Red Sox to tie a series in which they trailed 3-1.

Notes: League Championship Series umpires will be announced following the completion of the Wild Card games.

UMPIRE ROTATION FOR THE POSTSEASON

The six-man umpiring crew working Postseason games will rotate in the following manner: right field to left field; left field to third base; third base to second base; second base to first base; first base to home plate. After a full rotation is complete, the home plate umpire would then shift back to right field and start the rotation over.

4B | POSTSEASON BROADCASTING TRANSMISSION REGULATIONS

RIGHTSHOLDERS & NON-RIGHTSHOLDERS

GAME BROADCASTERS (GROUP A) – ESPN & ESPN Radio (NL Wild Card Game), TBS & ESPN Radio (AL Wild Card Game), FS1/MLBN & ESPN Radio (NLDS), TBS & ESPN Radio (ALDS), FOX/FS1 & ESPN Radio (NLCS), TBS & ESPN Radio (ALCS), FOX & ESPN Radio (World Series). Other Game Broadcasters are MLB International, MLBN Productions and participating club radio flagship stations.

RIGHTSHOLDERS (GROUP B) – MLB Advanced Media, MLB Network, SiriusXM and all those in Group A that are not GAME BROADCASTERS for a particular game.

NON-RIGHTSHOLDERS (GROUP C) – All other radio and television entities that are not listed above.

THEIR COVERAGE

DAY OF GAME: Until the end of batting practice (or, if there is no batting practice, approximately one hour before the first pitch), Groups A, B and C are permitted to do live transmissions from inside the ballpark.

END OF BATTING PRACTICE (or approximately one hour before the first pitch if there is no batting practice) TO START OF GAME: Group A can do live transmissions from the field, the booth or an in-park studio position until after the game. Field interviews or interviews with uniformed personnel are permitted only with the approval of MLB. Groups B and C, including radio reports, are not permitted to transmit live or record material from inside the ballpark until after the game.

IN-GAME: Game Broadcasters are permitted to transmit live. All interviews with uniformed personnel must have been pre-taped except with prior permission of Major League Baseball. Shooting, taping and/or radio reports of any kind inside the ballpark by Groups B and C during network coverage of the games are strictly prohibited.

POST-GAME: Group A is permitted to do live reports with on-field interviews. Television entities in Groups B and C are prohibited from live coverage until 15 minutes after the game or when the Game Broadcaster concludes its game telecast, whichever comes first.

In a clinch situation, television entities in Groups B and C are prohibited from live coverage until the Game Broadcaster concludes its postgame coverage. Only Game Broadcasters can go live from the clubhouse after a clinch. Once the Game Broadcaster network has left the air, a winning Club may allow its own RSN to go live from the clubhouse following the game. Radio outlets in Group C are prohibited from live coverage until 15 minutes after the game or when ESPN Radio's network coverage has concluded, whichever comes first.

No live transmissions from the clubhouses are permitted by any group except after a clinching game, by the Game Broadcaster. Live online streaming is prohibited.

4C | INSTANT REPLAY

Managers will have at least two challenges to use. If any portion of a challenged play is overturned, then the manager who challenged the play will retain the challenge during the game. Once the manager has exhausted his ability to challenge plays during the game and after the beginning of the eighth inning, the Crew Chief may choose to invoke instant replay on any reviewable call.

A designated communication location near home plate has been established at all 30 MLB ballparks. There, the Crew Chief and at least one other Major League Umpire will have access to a hard-wired headset connected to the Replay Command Center, which will remain at MLB Advanced Media headquarters in New York. Major League Umpires will be staffed as Replay Officials at the Replay Command Center. After viewing video feeds, the Replay Official will make the ultimate determination of whether to overturn the call, based on the detailed within the Official Replay Regulations.

PLAY TYPES

The following play types will be subject to review:

Home run, Ground rule double, Fan interference, Stadium boundary calls (e.g., fielder into stands, ball out of play resulting in a dead ball), Force play, home plate collision rule, slide rule, Tag play (including steals and pickoffs), Fair/foul in outfield, Trap play in (outfield only), Batter hit by pitch, Time play (whether a runner scores before a third out), Touching a base (requires appeal), Tagging up on a caught fly ball, Passing runners, and Record keeping (Ball-strike count to a batter, outs, score, and substitutions). All other plays will not be reviewable; however, the Umpires may still convene on the field at any time to discuss the play.

INITIATION OF INSTANT REPLAY

Field managers may initiate replay review by verbally indicating his intention to challenge, in a timely manner, to the Crew Chief. Guidelines have been established to determine whether a challenge is timely. The manager may request that the umpire review multiple portions of the same play, but he must specify exactly which portions of the play he is challenging. If any portion of a challenged play is overturned, the manager who challenged the play will retain the ability to challenge one more play during the game. No manager may challenge more than two plays in a game. Once the manager has exhausted his ability to challenge plays during the game and after the beginning of the eighth inning, the Crew Chief may choose to invoke instant replay on any reviewable call. In that circumstance, the Crew Chief is not obligated to invoke instant replay if requested by the manager. Home run calls that are currently subject to instant replay review will continue to be reviewed at the Crew Chief's discretion. Managers may request that an Umpire review a home run call, but managers cannot challenge home run calls.

REVIEW PROCESS

Once instant replay review is invoked (either by the Manager or the Crew Chief), the Crew Chief will signal to the official scorer that the play is under review. The Crew Chief and at least one other umpire will then move to a designated communication location near home plate, where they will have access to a hard-wired headset connected to the Replay Command Center in New York. Major League Umpires will be staffed as Replay Officials at the Replay Command Center, located at MLB Advanced Media headquarters, for all Major League games. The Replay Command Center will have direct access to video from most cameras in the ballpark in real-time, regardless of whether they are shown on the live broadcast. The Replay Official will look at the video feeds and determine if there is clear and convincing evidence to overturn the call on the field. If the Replay Official overturns a call on the field, he will also use his judgment to determine where to appropriately place runners if the play had been called correctly on the field. The umpires on the field will not have a monitor to review the play and they will not leave the field at any time. The Replay Official will make the ultimate determination of whether to overturn the call. On-Field personnel may not argue with the decision of the Replay Official.

CLUB ACCESS TO VIDEO

To determine whether to challenge a play, personnel in the dugout will be permitted to communicate with a video specialist in the Clubhouse who has access to the same video that is available to Replay Officials. This communication will occur via the dugout phone. Both the home and visiting Clubs will have standardized technology to ensure each Club has equal access to all video. No monitors or additional electronic equipment will be permitted in the dugout.

SCOREBOARD REPLAYS

Clubs will now have the right to show replays of close plays on its ballpark scoreboard, regardless of whether the play is reviewed.

4D | PLAYER ELIGIBILITY

A Club may select a roster of no more than 25 and no less than 24 players for each post-season series. Rosters may be changed from one series to the next. Rosters submitted for the start of a post-season series may be re-submitted in the event that Game One of a series is postponed before lineup cards are exchanged at home plate. At the start of a series, a Club's roster must include only eligible players or replacements for injured eligible players. A player is eligible if the player was on that Club's Major League Active, Disabled, Bereavement / Family Medical Emergency, Paternity, Suspended or Military List of such Major League Club as of Midnight Eastern Time on August 31, or at such time was under control, but on optional assignment, or on assignment from another Major League organization and not yet reported.

A replacement for an injured eligible player must either also be an eligible player, according to the criteria described above, or have been a Minor League player in the Club's organization on August 31 and have remained in the same organization through the beginning of the post-season series. Such replacements may be made only with permission of the Commissioner's Office. Since 2007, before a series has begun, there is no longer a requirement that a replacement be a pitcher-for-pitcher or a position-player-for-a-position-player.

Since 2007, a Club may, with permission of the Commissioner's Office, substitute for a player injured during a post-season series. The player substituted during a series, as with a replacement for an injured player before a series, must either also be an eligible player, according to the criteria described above, or have been a Minor League player in the Club's organization on August 31 and have remained in the same organization through the time of the substitution. In addition, a substitution during a series must be a pitcher-for-pitcher or position-player-for-position player substitution. In the event of such a substitution, the injured player removed from the series roster must miss the remainder of that series and the next subsequent postseason series. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a replaced player, who has suffered an acute concussion during a post-season series, may be eligible to play in the next subsequent post-season series that year, provided that the player has been ineligible to play for a minimum of seven days, and Major League Baseball's Medical Director has reviewed a Return to Play form and supporting information and approved the reinstatement. A player may also be replaced during a series if he is the father of a child whose delivery or adoption is imminent or has occurred within the prior 48 hours, or if he is unable to render services because of the serious or severe illness or death of a player's immediate family.

4E | POSTSEASON CLUB/MEDIA RULES & REGULATIONS

The following are Major League Baseball's Postseason regulations for Club/Media Relations. They are to be observed by all parties and they supersede championship season policies.

1. There is no pregame clubhouse access for the media in the Postseason. Any exceptions must be approved by Major League Baseball. Clubhouses are open to the media on workout days, except if a Club is holding a full-team media availability in an alternate ballpark location. Clubhouses may be opened by Major League Baseball during weather delays or under other exceptional circumstances.
2. The working media shall have access to both clubhouses no later than 10 minutes after the final player has cleared the field following a game, except in a clinching situation. At that time, working media will have access immediately following the final out once the majority of the team is in the winning clubhouse. The losing clubhouse will be opened at an appropriate time by a representative of Major League Baseball shortly after the final out.
3. Only those individuals bearing appropriate credentials issued by Major League Baseball will be allowed access to the clubhouses following games.
4. In a clinching situation, only those individuals bearing appropriate credentials issued by Major League Baseball will be allowed access to the winning clubhouse for a period of one hour following the final out of the game.
5. Ropes or other restraining barriers are not permitted to bar the media except to protect on-field logos. Only those individuals bearing appropriate credentials issued by Major League Baseball will be allowed pregame or postgame access to the dugouts or the field. Media is to be allowed in foul territory, in an unrestricted manner, in an area which is not less than the territory between first and third bases and includes the area around the batting cage, except the dirt area around the batting cage.
6. ENTIRE POSTSEASON: Managers, the next game's starting pitchers and select players must appear for press conferences in the ballpark Interview Room, including on off-days. Clubs shall make all best efforts to provide (a) players who were most relevant to their regular season success, and (b) those who were the most newsworthy in a particular Postseason game.
 - WILD CARD GAMES: Workouts are not mandatory. Clubs shall provide all reasonable efforts to make their managers and scheduled Wild Card Game starting pitchers available to the media following the end of the regular season.
 - DIVISION SERIES: Full workouts by both Clubs are mandatory prior to Games One and Three, provided that there is an off-day prior to each game.
 - LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES: Participating teams may choose to participate in full team media availabilities, full team workouts or both prior to Game One. Both full Clubs are required to hold a workout prior to Game Three, provided that there is an off-day prior to the game. Clubs are not required to hold a workout prior to Game Six. However, managers, Game Six starting pitchers and a starting position player per Club must be available in the ballpark Interview Room on the day before Game Six.
 - WORLD SERIES: Both full Clubs are required to participate in full team media availability sessions on the day before Game One. Both full Clubs are required to hold a workout prior to Game Three, provided that there is an off-day prior to the game. Clubs are not required to hold a workout prior to Game Six. However, managers, Game Six starting pitchers and a starting position player per Club must be available in the ballpark Interview Room on the day before Game Six.
7. Managers are required to appear in the Interview Room both pregame and postgame for media interviews throughout Major League Baseball's Postseason.
8. Players will be available to the media before and after games for interviews. The Club will make every reasonable attempt to secure the players selected by representatives of Major League Baseball to appear for media interviews in the Interview Room both pregame and postgame.
9. The trainer's room and player lounge may be off-limits to the media, but each Club controls these areas, and it is vital that these areas are not used as a sanctuary for players seeking to avoid the media. It is very important to our game that ALL players are available to the media for reasonable periods, and it is the player's responsibility to cooperate.
10. Under no circumstances shall any Club discriminate in any fashion against an accredited member of the media based upon race, creed, sex or national origin.
11. Physical abuse or threats directed to members of the media (and/or official scorers) by baseball personnel will not be tolerated. Disciplinary action, including fines and suspensions, will be considered in any such cases.
12. Visitors in the clubhouse should conduct themselves in a professional manner. There shall be no seeking of autographs, no personal photography of any kind, no removal of equipment and no sampling of players' food spreads. Clubhouses are workplaces. Clubhouse business should be conducted as expeditiously as possible with a minimum of disruption of regular game routines.
13. Live TV and/or radio interviews with uniformed personnel during the course of a game are not authorized or permitted, nor is attaching a microphone to any uniformed personnel permitted without Major League Baseball approval. Microphones may not be placed in or adjacent to dugouts and/or bullpens in a manner that will allow uniformed personnel's remarks or conversation to be overheard during the course of a game without MLB's prior approval.
14. The use of smart phones, flip cameras and mobile photographic/video devices is not permitted in the clubhouse.
15. There will be no live broadcasts from the clubhouse without MLB approval. (This includes live telephone interviews.)
16. Tweeting and similar social media or electronic transmissions are not permitted while media are in the clubhouse or the manager's office during the Postseason.
17. Telephones from both dugouts to the press box are to be maintained in working order for the purpose of providing information regarding special circumstances to the media during the course of a game. Explanations of injuries should be made as soon as possible (to both the media and fans in the stadium).
18. Accredited media are not required to sign in for clubhouse access but will have their credentials scanned at certain access points throughout the Postseason.
19. Any Club whose personnel violate these regulations will be disciplined. Any member of the media who violates these regulations will lose his or her accreditation.
