MINOR LEAGUE CLIPS

Lookouts' Gonsalves holds Barons hitless Rob Terranova | MiLB.com | April 7, 2018

Even the cold weather was no match for Stephen Gonsalves on Saturday night.

The Twins' No. 3 prospect threw 5 1/3 hitless innings in his season debut as Double-A Chattanooga shut down Birmingham, 2-0, at a frigid AT&T Field. The Lookouts held the Barons to one hit in the contest.

Gonsalves set down nine of the first 10 hitters and the only blemishes on his line were three walks. He fanned three and threw 43 of 71 pitches for strikes.

"I think that's the coldest game I ever played in," the San Diego native said. "I think it got down to 32 degrees, and I couldn't really get my finger on the seam to throw my slider, but I had my curveball and changeup working and my heater was in the strike zone all night. I've pitched in this league before and I've had good results. So I just wanted to go out there and throw as many strikes as possible and keep hitters off-balance.

"It feels good to get the first one out of the way."

Despite not surrendering a hit, the 23-year-old was lifted after getting Ryan Brett to fly out to start the sixth.

"When I went out for the sixth they told me I only had 12 pitches left," MLB.com's No. 79 overall prospect said. "After that first hitter had a long at-bat, I knew that was it. I still gave my manager a long staredown to let him know I didn't want to be taken out. I was just playing around, I have a good connection with the coaching staff here and we have fun."

Gonsalves said he is going to be on a 75-80 pitch soft count for the next three starts. He opened last season with the Lookouts and went 8-3 with a 2.68 ERA and 96 strikeouts against 23 walks over 87 1/3 innings. That earned the 2013 fourth-round pick a promotion to Triple-A Rochester, where he surrendered 14 runs in 22 2/3 innings.

This spring, Gonsalves appeared in two games with the Twins before being reassigned to Minor League camp. In 3 2/3 innings, he gave up a run on six hits and two walks with one strikeout.

"I was a little surprised," Gonsalves said, recalling his reaction to his assignment. "But the Twins have so much depth that it doesn't really matter where you go. There are more experienced guys at the next level, and there are more things I need to work on to tighten up my game so that's my focus here right now.

"You know, I've never been in cold weather and I hear it's snowing [in Rochester] right now, so that could be another reason I'm here."

Twins No. 16 prospect Tyler Jay relieved Gonsalves and retired the first four batters he faced before giving up the Barons' only hit on a two-out single in the seventh by 22nd-ranked White Sox prospect Seby Zavala. Zack Jones and Ryne Harper each worked an inning to finish up the Lookouts' first shutout of the season.

Edgar Corcino drove in Tanner English with a sacrifice fly to right field in the third to get the Lookouts on the board and put Gonsalves in line for the win. In the seventh, Wynston Sawyer came in to score on a single by Sean Miller to complete the scoring.

Cedar Rapids Kernels win 1st extra-inning game with new rules, 4-3, over Quad cities Staff | The Gazette | April 7, 2018

CEDAR RAPIDS — You've got to love the new way they go about things in extra innings!

"Of course," laughed Cedar Rapids Kernels Manager Toby Gardenhire, after his club walked off Quad Cities, 4-3, in 10 innings Saturday night in the home opener at Veterans Memorial Stadium. "It's a great rule when you win."

It took just two games for the Kernels and River Bandits to encounter minor league baseball's new extra-inning rules. If you weren't aware, once you get to the 10th, each team begins with a runner on second base.

It's supposed to keep games from going the 13, 14, 15-inning route and save pitching staffs from becoming depleted. Not everyone likes it, especially the baseball purists.

Though on a night when the temperature was 35 degrees at first pitch and about 10 degrees colder than that once the 10th rolled around, even baseball purists couldn't complain too much.

Alex Kirilloff's sacrifice line drive scored Akil Baddoo with the winning run as the Kernels moved to 2-0.

"As a player, it takes away the (excitement) of the walk-off win a little bit," Kirilloff said. "I don't want to say put asterisk by it, but it kind of feels like that."

"You end up running guys out there and out there and out there, and that's when you can end up in trouble," Gardenhire said. "It's really hard to score runs in weather like this. I've been in games that have gone 15 or 16 innings because nobody can score. The atmosphere is like no one can score. So tonight it actually helped out that way."

Quad Cities tied things at 3-3 on an error with two outs in the top of the ninth inning. J.J. Matijevic began the River Bandits 10th at second, but winning C.R. reliever Ryan Mason got cleanup hitter and former Iowa Hawkeye Jake Adams to fly to center, picked off Matijevic and struck out Adrian Tovalin.

The Kernels had the luxury of speedy leadoff man Akil Baddoo at second base to begin the bottom of the 10th. Royce Lewis hit a grounder to third that Tovalin went to his left to field, but Baddoo scooted around him safely into third.

Kirilloff then hit an 0-1 pitch to left to end it.

Part of having success in extras now will be predicated on who is on second to start an inning and who is at-bat.

"Their guy they had hitting (Adams), that's the guy you want up there in that situation," Gardenhire said. "You know he's not going to bunt. It helps to have a speed guy out there, for sure. We just kind of got lucky with that. That's all part of it. I've heard people say you should be able to pick who's at second base. To me, that's going a little bit too far."

The teams are scheduled to play again Sunday afternoon at 2:05.
