Royce Lewis hits birthday grand slam; fan catches foul ball in beer (then chugs it)

Michael Rand | Star Tribune | June 6, 2018

In this edition of The Cooler, we have a story about beer and a story about precocious Twins prospects who can't yet have a beer. Let's get to it:

*It was a memorable night in Cedar Rapids for two of the Twins' most promising young hitting prospects.

On his 19th birthday, last year's No. 1 overall pick Royce Lewis hit his first professional grand slam. Lewis blasted a 2-0 pitch over the left field fence, turning a 3-2 Cedar Rapids lead into a 7-2 advantage. Here's a look at the home run on a pretty smooth swing:

Not to be outdone, 20-year-old teammate Alex Kirilloff hit a grand slam of his own later in the game, part of a 14-3 Kernels rout of Beloit. Kirilloff, a left-handed hitter, hit his slam to the opposite field off a left-handed pitcher — both impressive feats.

Lewis is hitting .294 with four home runs, while Kirilloff is tearing up the league with a .330 average and 11 home runs. Our own Joe Christensen profiled both players recently during a trip to Cedar Rapids.

- Royce Lewis, SS, Twins — A year ago at this time, Lewis was still an amateur waiting to find out which team would call his name on draft day. The Twins took him with the No. 1 overall pick, and the rest is his history. He turned 19 on Tuesday and celebrated with a grand slam.

Chattanooga Lookouts bouncing back attendance-wise in 2018

David Paschall | Times Free Press | June 6, 2018

The Chattanooga Lookouts have dodged raindrops and threatening forecasts in addition to Southern League opponents two months into the season.

Tonight's 7:15 matchup between the Lookouts and the Mobile BayBears at AT&T Field will mark Chattanooga's home finale for the first 70 games. The Lookouts will play their final 10 games of the first half on the road, which coincides with Friday's start to the nine-day Riverbend Festival.

"It's been a good year," Lookouts general manager Rich Mozingo said. "We've had some weather hiccups, but when we've been playing baseball, it's been great at the gates. We've had a strong first half."

The Lookouts were routed by the BayBears 17-4 Wednesday afternoon before an announced crowd of 1,865, which was the third-smallest of the season. With tonight's first-half home finale remaining, Chattanooga has averaged 3,531 fans per game and has produced a total attendance of 109,449 in 2018.

Chattanooga opened the season against visiting Birmingham before a sold-out crowd of 6,371, but that remains AT&T's lone sellout of the half. There have been two more crowds in excess of 5,000, with neither of those occurring over Memorial Day weekend.

"We've had so much rain in the area," Mozingo said. "It has been a crazy, wet spring, and sometimes with us, it doesn't matter what the weather is but what the weather forecast is. We had a 90 percent chance of rain leading up to all of Memorial Day weekend and played baseball those three days, but the weather forecast really hurt us."

Chattanooga's total attendance is on pace to surpass last year's figure of 209,948, and its current average is ahead of last year's 3,181 clip. Last year's numbers were the lowest in the history of AT&T Field, which opened before the 2000 season.

The Lookouts had four games washed out in the first half last year and three so far this season.

"We're on a pace to be up from where we were last year, but once again, it's a weather game," Mozingo said. "There is no telling what's going to happen tomorrow or next week. If the weather pattern continues like it has the last couple of years, we should be pretty dry in the second half, and we've got a lot of good promotions coming up."

Tonight's game will be followed by fireworks.

The Lookouts opened the bottom of the first inning Wednesday with a LaMonte Wade walk and a Brent Rooker RBI double to left field. That 1-0 lead stood until a brutal third inning, when Chattanooga starting pitcher Anthony Marzi allowed three singles, two doubles, two walks and threw two wild pitches before recording an out.

Marzi was replaced with two out in the third by Cody Stashak, who promptly allowed Brennon Lund's two-run double to left that padded Mobile's lead to 8-1. The Lookouts wound up yielding 17 hits and six walks in their most lopsided loss of the year.

Despite Wednesday's debacle before a less-than-stout crowd, the Lookouts do believe they compete in one of the league's best environments.

"The atmosphere in this park is as good as anywhere we've been," Rooker said. "It's got a really nice hometown feel being in the middle of downtown, and Chattanooga is a really cool city. The fans do a good job of providing a home-field advantage, and we love playing here." Said first-year manager Tommy Watkins: "I would say it's right up there with the top of the league. Birmingham does a good job of getting a lot of people in there, but I would put this up there with Biloxi and Pensacola and places like that. It's definitely toward the top."

Brusdar Graterol proves he's healthy in strong start for C.R. Kernels, who lose double-header to Beloit
Jeff Johnson | The Gazette | June 6, 2018

CEDAR RAPIDS — A lot of people in Twins Territory may have hyperventilated when they saw pitcher Brusdar Graterol get placed on the disabled list with the Cedar Rapids Kernels last week.

Had you seen him walk out of the home clubhouse at Veterans Memorial Stadium with a huge ice bag on his right hand and wrist after a recent game, you likely freaked.

But it turned out to be nothing. The gas-throwing uber prospect had an "injury" that was exactly as the DL report said it was: a right hand contusion.

Just a little bruise he believe came from sleeping on his hand the wrong way.

"No problem," Graterol said, after he returned with seven strong innings Wednesday afternoon in the first game of a day-night, double-header sweep at the hands of the Beloit Snappers. Beloit won the opener in eight innings, 4-3 and the nightcap, 3-0.

"The night it happened, I was sleeping on top of my hand," Graterol said, through translator and Kernels co-pitching coach Cibney Bello. "It started tingling. I didn't pay much attention to it. The next day, when I came to the field, I noticed the bruise."

"It was pretty much precautionary," Bello said, of Graterol's short DL stint. "When I played catch with him outside, I knew he was fine."

Graterol was his upper-90s self Wednesday, as that is where most of his fastballs were clocked. He hit 100 miles per hour once.

Beloit scored a run each in the fifth and sixth innings against him. He allowed six hits, didn't walk anyone and struck out four, employing more of a sinking two-seam heater.

"No, no, no," Graterol said in English, when asked if he ever got concerned about his hand. The 19-year-old Venezuelan had Tommy John elbow surgery two years ago.

"I knew it wasn't anything bad," he said, through Bello. "How can something bad happen when you are sleeping?"

Graterol, shortstop Royce Lewis, outfielder Alex Kirilloff and relief pitcher Jared Finkel were named to the Midwest League All-Star Game's Western Division team Wednesday, the league announced. Lewis and Kirilloff were selected as starters via vote of league managers.

The 54th-annual all-star game is Tuesday, June 19, at Cooley Law School Stadium in Lansing, Mich.

The Kernels fell to a season-worst 27-31 with the sweep. Two runs in the eighth against losing reliever Calvin Faucher (1-2) in Game 1 dropped Cedar Rapids to 2-6 in extra innings this season.

They were limited to two hits in Game 2. Beloit starter Bryce Conley (3-2) came one out from a complete-game shutout.

The teams conclude their six-game series Thursday night with a single nine-inning game at 6:35.
